What concrete feedback do you have regarding the teacher's teaching?

Comments
Very motivated and kind, but perhaps a more thorough explanation of the different concepts we approached would be great, instead of just the mathematical formulas behind them.
He is eager and committed to teaching but since he is newer at it I think he still has some things to work on (i.e. a bit less time spent on niche aspects of examples would streamline my learning).
As previously mentioned, my feedback is to use the white board more and rely less on the slides.
It is very hard to tell from his lectures what is important and what is not.
For his first time teaching at SSE he has done a remarkable job. Thank you!
Very responsive to student feedback and questions.
Very generous in his availability to answer questions and concerns. This being his first semester teaching this course I would say he did a really great job.
I really have nothing bad to say. His pedagogical skills are good but first and foremost he really does seem to care about us students.
Jaakko's teaching style worked very well for me. Whenever I had questions, he always gave informative and timely answers. My main concern is about the course itself.
Jaakko is a great person but sometimes it felt like he did not know the material too well. This will likely resolve itself as he gets more experience teaching the course, so it should not be a major issue going forward.
Jaakko is very engaged, motivated and kind! One could see that he truly cares for the students. He was always approachable and helpful. This enthusiasm was sometimes channeled in a slightly chaotic way, but this could be as well because it was the first time he taught the course. Furthermore, he has a very good knowledge of the subject and illustrates it perfectly with research examples.
See my previous comments.
Jaakko did a good job teaching this course. As I mentioned previously, I feel like the course would have benefitted from an increased focus on the core topics.
Maybe sometimes not answer all questions on a lecture. A bit more irrelevant questions could be good to take in breaks/after class/over email.
I appreciate that Jaakko really cares about us as students and was great at taking feedback throughout the semester
When asked, Jaakko provided help very quickly, that was great! Sometimes his lectures got a little messy. I think that will go away when he gets a routine in teaching the course.
Hi Jaakko, many thanks for teaching this topic to us. I really appreciate how open you were, how fast you implemented any suggestions from the suggestion box, and the overall effort into the course.
A bit hard to understand him sometimes, and his interaction with the slides wasn't optimal
Structure the lectures and slides better. Use of examples during lectures was nice! But would be nice to connect these to the course material in a clearer and better way during lectures

Equality and Diversity

In this course, the teacher(s) actively worked to include different people and perspectives. This was demonstrated in, for example, the selection of course materials, case studies and/or guest speakers as well as during lectures and classroom discussions through balanced speaking time and avoiding stereotypical examples.
